

Client story

Background

C enrolled at Job Club having been referred by the Job Centre. He hadn't worked for 8 years and wanted to brush up on his computer skills. As well as learning how to apply for jobs in the current market.

What The Vine Centre did

We helped him to put his CV on Dropbox. This made it easier for him to apply for jobs using his phone. He found Job Club was a real asset as he didn't have internet access at home. In just one week he applied for 9 jobs.

Result

He has now started work as a customer service assistant at a supermarket in Farnham. With the view to training for a duty manager role.

Our different services

How we help

The Start of the Journey

We provide support that makes everyday life easier for our homeless and vulnerable visitors. Giving everyone a sense of self-worth in a safe environment.

These services enable the Vine Centre to better understand the needs of every individual and are the building blocks for the future.

Social Integration

To enable all our visitors to gain confidence, allowing them to interact with others, to socialise and learn new skills.

Moving Forward – New Skills

Working with individuals on their personalised support plans, the Vine Centre provides a "one-stop-shop" of support and training. Helping people gain self-belief and to become an active part of the community.

Why we exist

The Vine Centre is a place for the vulnerable

From the elderly lady whose only remaining social interaction is at our Silvers Group

The isolated mother with an autistic child who comes to Spectrum for support

The long term unemployed, ground down by failed applications who come to Monday Job Club for fresh help and support

The young girl with learning disabilities who comes for counselling

The homeless gentleman with no-one to turn to, who comes for help with finances and housing advice.

The socially isolated woman with mental health problems who delights in painting at our Art therapy class

The young man gaining confidence in the workplace, interacting with others as part of "My Catering Career"

The Vine is a haven; helping, supporting, enabling and empowering our local community, because everybody should have somebody to turn to.
